I am on a limited income and trying not to spend too much each month. Council Tax seems a big expense. Is there any way I can pay less?

You might be able to pay less council tax or not pay it at all depending on your circumstances. It's a good idea to contact the council and ask them.

If you're the only adult in your home, you'll get a 25% discount. When working out how many people live in a property, some people aren't counted - they're called 'disregarded people', e.g. student nurses. If everyone in a house is disregarded there is a 50% discount. If everyone is a student or severely mentally impaired, you won't pay any council tax.

If you're entitled to a discount because someone has moved out, you're entitled to the discount from when the person moved out, even if you told the council later.

Next, if you are on a low income or receive benefits, you might be able to get your council tax reduced. The council will ask you details about your income and your circumstances, to work out your entitlement. You may also be eligible for additional support if you've reached State Pension age.

Even if none of the reduction criteria apply to you, the council can still make a 'discretionary reduction'. They'll normally only do this if you can show that you're suffering severe hardship.

Contact South Lakes Citizens Advice for more help if you are still having problems.

Free, confidential advice and help is available from South Lakes Citizens Advice on any aspect of debt, consumer problems, benefits, housing, employment or any other problems.

will be on the 18th October.
from 9.30am - noon.

As ever, don't worry if you can't easily fit into the these times, come later or leave earlier as it suits you. You will be warmly welcomed to make whatever contribution you can. Whilst we notionally meet at the main churchyard gate, the lych gate, and move on from there, it may be that nobody is immediately visible when you arrive and a quick walk round will enable you to find other volunteers.

If you can, please bring a pair of garden loppers, a pair of work gloves and be ready to join a sociable group making a difference to the churchyard.

I look forward to seeing you,

Richard Simpson

Dear Friends,

One hymn that often appears in any Favourite Hymns list is To God be the Glory, written by Fanny Crosby. It was published 150 years ago this year.

Fanny Crosby was a prolific hymn writer. Therefore she had to be a secret hymn writer also. Some publishers were reluctant to have so many hymns by the same author in their hymn books, so, it is said, Crosby used nearly 200 different pseudonyms during her career. She also wrote political poetry, being an ardent abolitionist at the time of the American Civil War.

To God be the Glory is a straightforward hymn giving praise to God for his rescue plan accomplished by Jesus Christ. A keen evangelist, Crosby set a goal of winning a million people to Christ through her hymns. Whenever she wrote a hymn she prayed it would bring women and men to the one who 'yielded his life, an atonement for sin, and opened the flood gates that all may go in.'

The hymn describes that transformation - 'the vilest offender who truly believes that moment from Jesus a pardon receives' - possibly thinking of the repentant thief on the cross beside Jesus, or St Paul's self-description as the chief of sinners.

Fanny Crosby's extensive output is all the more remarkable when you consider that she was blind. At six weeks old, she caught a cold and developed inflammation of the eyes. Mustard poultices were applied, and Crosby claimed this damaged her optic nerves and blinded her. It is not surprising that many of her hymns place a strong emphasis on seeing, and To God be the Glory is no exception.

The hymn ends with the Christian's hope and her personal hope, anticipating 'our wonder, our rapture when Jesus we see.'
